Governor Gretchen Whitmer issued three new Executive Orders (hyperlinks below with all EOs):

- Executive Order 2020-48 – Extends until May 12 the ability for local boards, commissions, councils, nonprofit boards, and others, to meet utilizing telephones or video conferencing.
- Executive Order 2020-49 – Extends until May 12 the authority for the departments to waive or defer certain requirements in order to expedite the process of bringing additional care facilities online.
- Executive Order 2020-50 – The state will work with long-term care facilities to establish regional hubs, which will provide higher levels of care and services.

Holding Local Meetings in the Time of COVID-19

One key part of tackling COVID-19 is to ensure local public bodies can continue to meet in a safe manner. For this reason, Governor Gretchen Whitmer signed Executive Order 2020-48, which allows for just that. This order expands from a previous order, the length of a time for which a public body can meet via telephone or video conference.

Under the order, those bodies must take steps to ensure the public has access to those meetings, including either a telephone number or website to allow for remote participation. “Local bodies, such as school boards and commissions are on the front lines of helping the state tackling this challenge. It’s critical they remain open and transparent by allowing the public to participate while being able to still meet in a safe manner,” explained Tim Ward, President of MLC.
